Althea and Donna	Uptown Top Ranking	The ultimate 'one-hit-wonders', Uptown Top Ranking was a surprise International No. 1 smash hit single for the teenage duo Althea and Donna. Entranced by Trinity's hit 'Three Piece Suit', they wrote a 'reply' song - Uptown Top Ranking, which they cut for Joe Gibbs. The success of the single, both in Jamaica and globally, secured them a deal with Virgin Record's Front Line imprint, releasing this, their only album, in 1978. The album features the cream of Jamaica's reggae musicians - 'The Riddim Twins' (Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare) gives the music the fat rhythms, while the legendary group of players, The Revolutionaries - the sublime horn section of Tommy McCook, Vin Gordon, and Herman Marquis; guitarist Earl "Chinna" Smith and keyboard player Bernard Harvey, provide the icing on the cake. Despite the teenage girls' lack of experience, this is a fabulous collection of roots reggae that swings from intense moody appeals to Jah, to brightly upbeat pop songs, and the Revolutionaries' outstanding contribution deserves the recognition it never received at the time. The title track has been covered many times, notably by Bristol trip-hoppers Portishead, in the late-'90s. This reissue includes two bonus tracks - It Mek, an album outtake unreleased at the time, and Going To Negril, a 12" single, also from 1978. Remastered at Abbey road on heavyweight black vinyl. Out of print for many years. A BONA FIDE REGGAE CLASSIC! Side A <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.No More Fighting3:40 2.Jah Rastafari3:42 3.Make A Truce4:16 4.Oh Dread2:37 5.Uptown Top Ranking3:45 6.It Mek3:50 (Bonus track) Side B <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.The West3:48 	4871425	27.99

Hammersmith Odeon Spring 1982 for Record Store Day 2023, released with full co-operation of the band. Haircut 100% Live! Hammersmith Odeon Spring 1982 is an in-concert album that highlights the group at the summit of their powers – high speed funk, to-die for pop and sweet melodies against the backdrop of Haircutmania. No overdubs and the high-octane energy of youth. The group moved from being London underground darlings to chart sensations in less than six months, and within a year had disappeared into pop's ether, leaving behind one memorable album and four Top 10 UK singles, but many have said that the real way to experience the power of the Haircuts was to see them play live. Higsons	Run Me Down (The Complete 2Tone Recordings)	"These titles have been out of print on vinyl for over 30 years. Originally released by Jerry Dammers' 2Tone label in the second wave of signings in 1982/3, The Higsons fitted with the political nature of the label and were also integral to Dammers' new vision of having something other than "new wave of ska" acts on the roster. Run Me Down came out in the spring of 1983 so RSD 2023 marks the 40th anniversary of the release. The Higsons front-man, Switch (now better known by his real name, Charlie Higson) designed all the band's sleeve art under the pseudonym René Parapap - except for Run Me Down which was made by the Chrysalis Records art department. Signing to a major, they featured in the John Hughes' Some Kind of Wonderful movie with two songs, but split up before an album was completed. 25 years later they reformed, touring the UK and USA, and at last completed their first album, Made Glorious, via a well over-subscribed Pledge Music campaign in 2013. Mike Oldfield	OPUS ONE	To celebrate Record Store Day in 2022, Universal Music Recordings are delighted to release Opus One, the original demo recorded by Mike Oldfield that was later to become the global phenomenon, Tubular Bells. Conceptualised in downtime while working as the bass player in the cult group Kevin Ayers And The Whole World, the teenage Mike Oldfield recorded his music in a small flat in Tottenham and a bedroom in his parents' home in Harold Wood, Essex. Working with a tape recorder borrowed from Ayers, Oldfield created tape loops and worked with such advanced studio items as a screwdriver and a piece of card to get the multi-tracking he desired. This was the tape that was rejected by many record companies, and ultimately approved by Simon Draper and Richard Branson at Virgin Records. Re-recorded at The Manor Studio, with additional sections added, Tubular Bells was released on May 25th 1973, launching both Mike Oldfield's career and Virgin Records. The rest, as they say . . . Unreleased until 2009, Opus One was made available on the 35th Anniversary box set of Tubular Bells. Now to begin the commemorations for Tubular Bells' 50th Anniversary, Opus One appears on vinyl for the first and only time ever in a limited pressing, cut at Abbey Road by Miles Showell, with a brand-new cover designed by Phil Smees and overseen by Mike Oldfield, which hints towards what was to come . . . Terry Callier	Hidden Conversations	'Hidden Conversations' is the follow up to Terry Callier's critically acclaimed 'Lookin' Out' album. Following his stunning performance at the 2008 Meltdown Festival, curated by Massive Attack, he once again teamed up with the legendary British trio and the result was 'Hidden Conversations'. Massive Attack's Robert Del Naja co-wrote 'Wings' and 'John Lee Hooker' and exclusively wrote 'Live With Me'. The combination of Del Naja's haunting production and Terry's stunning, emotive vocals works beautifully. Originally released as CD only in 2009, this RSD edition is the first time it has been available on vinyl. Housed in a tip on sleeve, 180g black vinyl and featuring an OBI strip.	MRBLP264	28.99

Ultramagnetic Mcs	Ultra Ultra / Silicon Bass	"Ultramagnetic MCs are back. Known for their abstract and futuristic style, Kool Keith and Ced Gee pioneered the New York Hip Hop sound in the 80's alongside contemporaries such as KRS One and LL Cool J, before disbanding in the mid 1990s. Bolstering a long, genre spanning solo career Kool Keith cemented his legacy in the Hip Hop, Punk and Electronic music circles with thematic albums under aliases such as Dr. Octagon, Dr. Doom and Black Elvis, while Ced Gee stayed mostly behind the scenes providing production work for iconic artists including The Prodigy and Lee ""Scratch"" Perry. Backing the legendary duo is Nashville based oddball band THETAN, who provided the entire instrumentation for the recent Kool Keith collaborative album 'Space Goretex'. Offering up 2 brand new tracks of spaced out funky hip hop, the B-side of this 12"" is emblazoned with an etching of the Ultramagnetic MCs logo, engraved by none other than Dan Emery at Black Matter Mastering. Tracklisting: Side A: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.
