GUARANI KAIOWA FT. MATT BLACK	SHAMANS IN SPACE (RECORD STORE DAY 2026)	"This is our Mba'ekuaa. Our Technology. You have your Mba'ekuaa, and we have ours" - Nhanderu Tadeu, Guarani and Kaiowá Indigenous Shaman. Can sound take us to outer space? In the ancestral sonic traditions of Guarani & Kaiowá Indigenous communities in Brazil, sound is understood as a form of Mba'ekuaa - a powerful technology to dialogue with spirit entities and restore balance with nature. It is a vehicle for shamanic travel powered by three sacred instruments: the Mimby (whistle), the Mbaraká (rattle), and the Takuapu (a sacred bamboo baton). These sacred tools are described as their "wifi to the gods" where the sounds of the instruments are seen to open a portal between worlds. The Guarani & Kaiowá use no hallucinogens: sound is their sole tool for voyaging between realms. This album is the result of a cross-cultural encounter, a dialogue between worlds made possible through sound. The collaboration was born from the Sounding Futures project, which brought together Guarani & Kaiowá elders from Brazil with pioneering UK electronic musicians Youth (Martin Glover) and Matt Black (Coldcut). Their first exchange took place in an ambisonic sound lab at UCL, followed by an improvised jam session at Youth's home studio that became the foundation of this record. What makes this project radically different is the depth of its collaborative process. A core condition was that the most sacred chants — understood as powerful incantations — would not be remixed or interfered with. This respect extended through the entire production. The shamans acted as intellectual directors and cosmic curators of their ancestral sounds, reviewing each track in detail and guiding adjustments to the final arrangements of each composition. The result is a truly co-created album; testimony to the power of sound to open dialogues between worlds, making new realities audible, thinkable and possible."	LSD196LP	£31.99

Ludovico Einaudi	Divenire 20th Anniversary Edition	Celebrating the 20th anniversary of Ludovico Einaudi's Divenire with a new 2LP pressing on transparent orange vinyl for Record Store Day 2026. Divenire, meaning 'to become', includes instrumentation beyond solo piano, and the recording features cello, electronics and members of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra on a selection of the pieces. Einaudi himself describes the album concept as being tied to nature, movement and transformation, and his inspiration developed from his experiences performing his compositions in the Dolomites at a festival in 2002: "Divenire (Becoming) developed over a long period, beginning in 2002 when I was invited by the organisers of the festival "I Suoni delle Dolomiti" (The Sounds of the Dolomites) to write a composition which I would be performing on a plateau 2000 metres up in the Dolomites against the backdrop of the Pale di San Martino. For that occasion I wrote a suite for piano, two harps and string orchestra, taking my inspiration from three paintings by the nineteenth-century Swiss artist Giovanni Segantini, La vita, La natura and La morte (Life, Nature and Death). Performing with the orchestra in those spectacular surroundings was an extremely intense experience. I felt as if I were in a stream tumbling down a mountain-side, not only immersed in it, but an actual part of that unstoppable rush of water, and had that intoxicating sensation one feels when involved in a physical activity in contact with powerful natural forces, speed, water, space and wind. Since that experience I have done many other things, but have always thought that sooner or later I would develop the idea and expand it." - Ludovico Einaudi Tracklist: Side A Uno 3:48 Divenire 6:42 Monday 5:55	5708909	£36.99

PinkPantheress	Girl Like Me	Following the success of her critically acclaimed sophomore mixtape Fancy That and its star-studded remix expansion Fancy Some More?, PinkPantheress delivers an essential Record Store Day exclusive: the fan-favorite track "Girl Like Me." This limited RSD edition features the original track along with reimaginings by Kaytranada and Oklou. A masterclass in earworm production, "Girl Like Me" famously flips samples from Basement Jaxx's "Romeo" into a jittery, UK garage-infused anthem. The track's continued cultural impact led to PinkPantheress gaining her first GRAMMY nominations in 2025, including Best Dance Pop Recording and a nod for Fancy That as Best Dance/Electronic Album. Released for RSD on a limited red vinyl 7".	5026854067636	15.99

RASCALS	RASCALIZE (RECORD STORE DAY 2026)	"The Rascals are a British indie rock trio formed in 2006 by Miles Kane (guitar and vocals), Joe Edwards (bass) and Greg Mighall (drums), hailing from The Wirral on Merseyside. Before becoming The Rascals, all three members spent their formative years playing together in The Little Flames, gaining valuable experience touring with prominent contemporaries such as The Coral, The Zutons and, most significantly, Arctic Monkeys. It was while supporting Arctic Monkeys—drawing inspiration from their fiercely independent, DIY ethos and refusal to compromise—that the trio decided to trust their instincts and strike out on their own. Widely regarded as one of the strongest indie debuts of 2008, Rascalize cemented The Rascals' place in the UK indie landscape. Now, with its first-ever vinyl release for Record Store Day 2026, the album offers both longtime fans and new listeners a chance to rediscover a bold, energetic record that captures a distinctive moment in British indie rock history." Slint	untitled (albini rough mixes)	""Despite Steve Albini relentlessly advocating for Touch and Go Records to release Tweez in 1989, we declined. A few weeks later, Steve invited Slint to an impromptu recording session to make use of some studio time booked by another band who did not show up. At the end of the session, Steve did a quick mix for the band to take home. The next day, Steve dropped off a tape of those mixes to me at the Touch and Go office. These new Slint recordings blew my mind and I could not stop listening to them. Shortly thereafter, we agreed to release Slint's next album on Touch and Go – the soon to be recorded Spiderland."" - Corey Rusk, Touch and Go Records"	TG445LP-C1	25.99

Weezer	Weezer 1192	"Weezer's original bassist and founding member, Matt Sharp, recently stumbled upon a long-lost analog tape reel of the band's very first studio sessions. These were the recordings that were responsible for earning the band a record contract for their debut "Blue" album and features raw, untamed versions of their timeless hit songs, like Say It Ain't So and Undone (The Sweater Song), that made the album an instant classic. Sharp and legendary music producer Joe Chiccarelli took these recordings to Los Angeles' famed East/West Studios, where the Beach Boys created Pet Sounds and Sinatra recorded My Way, to take a deeper look into this mysterious reel of 1-inch Ampex tape. What the two men quickly discovered was the original lineup of the group in an explosively joyful and feral form. Making the decision to honor the original era and intention of the music, the songs were remixed from top to bottom, from tape to vinyl, in a 100% analog process. With Sharp as executive producer and Chiccarelli on the mix, the result of these sessions makes up the entirety of the new Weezer album titled "1192" (named after the month and year it was originally recorded.) The illuminating spirit of the performances on 1192 are guaranteed to give fans a whole new perspective on the origins of the blue album and stand on its own right as a significant and crucial entry into the band's catalog. Rivers Cuomo: Lead Vocals & Guitar Matt Sharp: Bass Guitar & Vocals Jason Cropper: Guitar & Vocals Pat Wilson: Drums"	Ernest Jennings Record	31.99
WILLIAM S. BURROUGHS	IN DUB (RSD EDITION)	"Limited edition of 500, paginated and numbered, 180g vinyl + bonus CD. 8 killer tracks for the first time available on orange coloured vinyl, processed and edited for longplay album release. - The cult album WSB – IN DUB is out of print for a couple of years. - Exclusively available for Record Store Day 2026 in a limited edition of 500 copies (paginated and numbered) . Dub Spencer & Trance Hill celebrate William S. Burroughs with the official support and assistance of the William S. Burroughs Foundation in the United States. This is a heavy ambient masterpiece in 15 chapters. They roll through dub landscapes full of heavy reggae grooves and extraterrestrial electro sounds, carried by pumping bass lines whose hypnotic power clears the pathway to the centre and gently caresses the stomach. Floating above the dragging, instrumental reggae cut-ups that gently drift into psychedelic territory, the artfully diluted grooves, breaks and virtuosic hints, and the majestic slowness of the riddims, rises the voice of WILLIAM S. BURROUGHS, beat poet, wanderer between worlds, junky supreme and counter-culture icon. His distinctive voice meets craggy soundscapes, harsh guitar chords and an acerbic Hammond organ which play off against each other in the mixing desk. Drenched in echo, the sounds in this dub treatment contravene the rules of space and time. They leave behind a wonderful feeling of confusion where listeners can relax and respectfully accompany the soul of their travelling companion William S. Burroughs on the path to eternity - a highly addictive sound experience. "	EB100B	31.99
